

Thirty years ago, Kulturhuset staged a landmark exhibition of international art jewellery. Nationalmuseum is excited to present a sequel, but this time the exhibition is one of many. Various Stockholm museums, galleries and artist collectives are hosting parallel exhibitions of significant Swedish work. Art Jewellery 2016 is a unique snapshot of the forms of artistic expression that are part of the current dialogue. This spring, venues across Stockholm invite you to discover the strength, power and scope of contemporary art jewellery, which is so much more than just a genre.
